

STARTERS

You must pick ONE starter for every topic. Use these for key words.

DICTIONARY

Make a dictionary page of all the key words and their definitions.

CROSSWORD

Make a crossword for keywords, your clues must be the definitions of the words.

FILL IN THE BLANK

Create a paragraph with keywords missed out.

#TWEETS

Create a hashtag for every keyword and give the definition in 140 characters or less.

DOMINOES

Make a set of dominoes with the keyword on one side and the definition on the other.

BUNTING

Make bunting using the keywords and definitions.

MAINS

You must pick ONE main for each topic. Use these to revise the learning outcomes.

MIND MAP

Make a mind map based on all the learning outcomes for the topic.

QUIZ

Create questions and answers for a quiz this could be on paper, Kahoot or for a dead monkey quiz.

POSTER

Make a revision poster based on all the learning outcomes.

FLASHCARDS

Make a set of flashcards with questions on the front & answers on the back. You can do this on paper or on Brainscape. Your answers must be more than one word.

TARSIA

Make a tarsia puzzle which includes as many learning outcomes as possible.

BOARD GAME

Make a board game to revise the topic. You must include questions/info for all the learning outcomes.

SIDES

These are some additional, more creative options. Use these for specific parts of the learning outcomes.

3D MODEL

Make a 3D model of a specific part of the learning outcomes to show your understanding of that part of the topic.

SONG/POEM

Make up a song or poem about the topic – your song must make sense! Write the lyrics down.

COMIC STRIP

Use a comic strip to explain a process.

REVISION CUBE

Make a cube and put 6 key points or 3 key questions and answers on it.

BRAIN DUMP

Get a blank piece of paper and spend 5 -10 minutes writing down everything you know about a specific topic without notes.

EXPLAIN TO SOMEONE AT HOME

Video yourself 'teaching' a complex concept to someone at home. You could also give them questions to complete.

