Dear parent / carer,

Study / revision supports

I sent a letter to all senior parents back in October as the initial planning for Prelims began. Now that the prelim assessments are over, discussions and final tracking is underway to set targets in preparation for the SQA exams at the end of April, I thought it would be timely to send a reminder and update to study supports available to our pupils.

There will be a number of assemblies this term to share messages with pupils regarding their coursework and SQA entries, all of which will be to ensure pupils know what to expect and where to access support should they need it. Staff are also offering a generous programme of support for almost all subjects for the next two terms – details by Faculty/subject/level can be found on the school website here.

As well as the weekly subject-specific study sessions, ESgoil is running an Easter Study Support programme. Pupils can register for these free, online webinars with their Glow email address via the ESgoil website during March.

Homework

Pupils should know that there is always 'homework'. There may not be a formal set task with questions required for a set date but pupils should read through notes from that day to ensure understanding (following up with teacher if questions) or even do some revision from topics covered earlier in year to ensure information has been retained.

If you have any questions regarding the content of this letter, please either contact your young person's Guidance Teacher or myself.

Yours sincerely

Kirsty Campbell-Robertson
